

COBRA SUPERFORMANCE MK111

£57,950

Forty years ago, the best sports cars all came from Europe. Americans wanted a car of their own to take on the Brits, Italians and Germans. Rather than re-invent the wheel, Texan Carroll Shelby took the sharp-handling, lightweight AC Ace from Britain, and stuffed it full of American muscle. The result was the Shelby Cobra, which instantly captured the hearts of motoring enthusiasts around the world. It also captured a fair number of trophies in international racing. Today, the price of a genuine Shelby Cobra puts it out of the reach of the average enthusiast. Authentic reproductions of these vintage sports cars have stepped in to fill the gap. Leading the field is the Superformance MKIII. The Superformance MKIII is a meticulously engineered and crafted reproduction of the original, built under license from Carroll Shelby Licensing Inc. No expense is spared in recreating these legendary cars, ensuring an authentic sports car experience. And because Superformance uses only the highest quality parts in the construction of the MKIII, they have always maintained amazingly high resale values.
